Dear Harold,

Sorry my plans for the weekend changed at the last minute. My company is in the process of moving to a new building; my floor wasn't scheduled to move for another 2 weeks, but to keep things in a state of confusion they moved up the schedule & I had to spend the weekend moving. I was disappointed because I was looking forward to getting away & also because you got my curiosity going as to what "surprises" you had. How about a hint?

I really don't know when I'll have another weekend free. I've got weddings & showers to go to for the next few weeks plus we're going to be doing a lot of door-to-door campaigning between now & May 14. I'll let you know as soon as I find out when I might be able to come down.

I got ambitious over the weekend & went through a box of newspapers I've been meaning to get to for some time. As soon as I get all the clippings together & make copies for myself I'll send you the originals. Your "friend" Cyril Wecht is running unopposed for County Democratic Chairman & one of the articles I'm going to send you is about his plans for bringing back the good old days of the party machine & unquestioning party loyalty. Wecht [redacted] obviously will win & if I get elected Committeewoman, he'll be my party chairman. The people I'm running with aren't too happy [redacted] with his plans so far, so after the election he's liable to find a group of people causing him much aggravation. I know would be interested so I'll keep you posted on what he's up to.

Take care ; Will be in touch.

Best to you both,
Karen
